

WORKPLACE DIVERSITY.

WHAT

- + Zip is a tried-and-true classic conference seating solution that has been a staple in Allseating's catalogue for over a decade.
- + With a sleek executive look and a contoured back that compliments that natural curvature of the spine, Zip's entry level price point in the conference seating category makes it a true feat of affordable design.

WHY

- + Current research shows that the trend towards more open office environments can present a challenge for business owners to create a cohesive seating story throughout an entire workplace.
- + Over the last several years, collaborative spaces where teams have the freedom to drop in and work privately or convene for impromptu discussions have become a necessary element to the modern office.
- + Zip's versatility accommodates numerous potential applications, making it easy to coordinate boardrooms in tandem with open office areas.

HOW

- + Zip's clean, sleek lines and broad palette of upholstery and mesh options make it simple to create an integrated look that reflects both an organization's needs as well as the requirements of each individual user.
- + Available as a midback or highback and featuring either mesh or upholstered back material, Zip is a simple conference chair with a flair for customizability.

- + Zip's aluminum conference arm is accented with an optional upholstered leather cap. Paired with the optional aluminum base and the chair's unique upper-back shape, Zip can elevate any executive space.
- + Zip also features multiple task arm options for office desk settings where more ergonomic set ups are required.
- + A guest chair is also available for complimentary looks in waiting areas and private offices.
